

FLOWER CHILD

Pete travelled back in time for Valentine
To get away from it all
Replaced his monkey suit for feather rags
And Philistine Law for Love and Peace

*„I've always been a true nature's child
Since the days when our songs were wild
Singing out songs of love, of love so free”*

... Dreams of a Flower Child

Pete found himself a fellow funny bird thinks that she'd just waited for him
Now or never he says to himself and promises to go all the way

*„I've always been a true nature's child
Since the days when our songs were wild
Singing out songs of love, of love so free”*

... Dreams of a Flower Child

Instead in flames of a love affair
Pete found himself in quite a mad talk
About his wife and his family
And he won't be late for the flight back home

*„I've always been a true nature's child
Since the days when our songs were wild
Singing out songs of love, of love so free”*

... Dreams of a Flower Child
